FARE PROTEST
BEFORE BOARDCommission Decides Today
Whether to Reopen Railway Hearing.CITIZENS FILE PROTEST
Charge Lack of Authority To Grant Increased Rates On District Cars.District Commissioners Brownlow and Kutz, acting as the Public Utilities Commission, this afternoon will consider the petition of the Citizens' Association, filed yesterday, protesting against the increase in street car fares, ordered by the commission to take effect Saturday.The petition, drawn up by William McK. Clayton, asks a rehearing on the commission's order.
Whether to reopen the case is to be decided at the commission's meeting today.Says Board Erred.
Clayton holds, in the petition, that the commission did wrong when it ordered a higher rate of fare for a service now much below the standard required by law.The petition cites ten instances in which the commission is said to have acted without due authority or discretion. The increase in the rate "forced" upon the Capital Traction Company is described as "excessive, exorbitant, unasked and unneeded."Violation of the Public Utilities law is intimated in the plea.Can't Change Law."The commission cannot write into the public utilities law a single line, dot an 'i' or cross a 't' therein," the petition says in conclusion. "The public interest, no matter what its power and strength cannot force the commission to hand down those laws and statutes constituted and orderly processes of legislation."Col. Kutz declined to comment on the petition last night but said the appeal would be considered tomorrow. No other petitions have been filed, he said.FOUR BANK ROBBER ton, of Cecil County, by Roschl, he and Henkel went to Newport News and Norfolk last week to buy automobiles to be resold in New York.

He said that cars could be purchased in Virginia and resold in New York City, after paying the freight, at a greater profit than could be realized by buying and reselling in New York.Two Cars Bought in Norfolk.Two automobiles were purchased in Norfolk recently, it was learned by the police at Elkton. One was a seven-passenger Hudson, with bluish black body and red hubs and spokes, answering the description of the bandits' car, and the other was a five-passenger Stutz with wire wheels. Both were 1917 models. They were brought to Baltimore on a steamer of the Chesapeapeake Steamship Co., arriving there Saturday afternoon. They were left on the Light street wharf of that company, Roschl says, until 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, when the start was made for New York.Came After Chauffeurs.In the meantime Roschl and Henkel decided to engage two chauffeurs to drive the cars to New York. Although he said he had been only twice in Washington and the same number of times in Baltimore, Roschl declared he was better known in Washington and for that reason decided to come here to engage the two chauffeurs.Accordingly, he said, he and Hen-kel came here Sunday afternoon, registering at the Hotel Sterling, where they spent the night. On Monday, Masters and Parks were engaged as chauffeurs at a garage with whose proprietor Roschl says he is acquainted, but whose name he does not know. Monday morning, Roschl and Henkel went to Baltimore on the 11 o'clock train and Masters and Parks came by the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Express.Capt. Grope Hutcheson, commander of Camp Meade, will have a check made this morning on all absentees from the camp at the time of the roundup, he said last night on learning that the rope used by the gunmen in tying their victims' hands was similar to that used on army "pup" tents.MASKED MEN RAID GAMES AND SALOONS, STEAL $10,000New York, April 27.—As the result of an orgy of holdups in New York, $10,000 in money and jewelry has changed hands, and virtually the entire detective force of the city has been called to a station for games of dice in a flat at 730 East Fifth street, where more than twenty men were relieved of their money, amounting to $7,000, and their jewelry, including rings, watches, cuff links and scarf pins.Thirteen patrons of a saloon at 144 Kenox avenue were relieved of $230 by three masked men with revolvers.Three other masked men lined nine men and a woman against a wall at 341 Third avenue and helped themselves to $1,500 in cash and jewelry.CONSTABULARY NOT NEEDED, DECLARES GOV. RITCHIE"I was horribly shocked when told of the bold robbery and cruel murder at Sandy Spring Monday night," Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, said at Annapolis yesterday.
"It is a shame that the State cannot take some definite means to halt such outlaws, but the best we can do now is to put every means at our disposal into the chase to apprehend the ruffians," he added."I do not think the one action sufficient to necessitate a State constabulary," Governor Ritchie replied in answer to a question of the establishment of such an organization. "Furthermore, a constabulary cannot be organized without an act by the legislature and a special appropriation by that body. The legislature will not meet for two years."Will Tell Women occupied the afternoon. John W.

Garner, of Texas, in which he said that the House was "a farce," and the House in eighteen years, said he did not believe 25 per cent of the members of the Republican majority were in favor of a sales tax, but they were afraid to raise the money otherwise. He charged they were "playing politics with a billion and a half dollars."Champ Clark, of Missouri, told the Republicans that the situation confronting the House at present was similar to that which resulted in the overthrow of Joseph G. Can-

IN BALTIMORESenator Misses Annapolis Engagement Through Chauffeur's Error.(Special to The Washington Herald) Baltimore, Md., April 27.—Senator Hiram Johnson, tired after a ten-hour motor trip, arrived here tonight to face a huge crowd at the Fifth Regiment Armory, where he sought to battle down the political prestige Gen. Wood has gained through the State Republican organization during the past few weeks.The Senator's first utterance tonight was a declaration that he had come into Maryland, just as he had gone into other States where the people had a right of expression, "fighting organized politics or organized wealth exploiting politics."The Senator left Cumberland early this morning, crossing the mountains, with Annapolis as his objective. He took the wrong road and was lost. He arrived in Annapolis an hour after his audience had left the hall. He proceeded without delay to Baltimore, arriving here at 4:30 o'clock.Political allies of Wood here admit that Johnson's whirlwind campaign of two days has not been without influence in the Western section of Maryland, where he gained many friends among the labor element.Immediately after his meeting tonight Senator Johnson took a train for Richmond, Indiana, where he will resume his tour of that State tomorrow night. He will remain in Indiana until the eve of the election next Tuesday.At the Senator's first mention of the league of nations, the audience broke into vigorous applause. He declared that "propaganda" which was sent over land for adoption of the league without the crossing of a "t" nor dotting of an "i" was the most expensively financed of any except that behind a certain candidate now running for President —propaganda emanating from league to enforce peace."Discuss Manufacturing.
